CIVIL AIR PATROL and its sponsor organization provides nearly $300,000 in scholarship opportunities for its cadet and senior members each year. Money is available to help students attend a college or vocational school. Cadets on a CAP Scholarship can even earn a pilot's license.

Eligibility & Application Requirements

Scholarships are generally advertised each fall for the academic year that begins the following fall. Deadlines vary depending on the scholarship program. All scholarships are available only to current CAP cadet officers and senior members. Other prerequisites also apply. Scholarship Programs

Auburn University, Department of Fiber Engineering Satellite flywheels, rocket motor nozzles, airfoils and bullet-proofing are only some of the high-tech projects related to fiber engineering. Auburn University annually sets aside one scholarship for a CAP cadet to study fiber engineering, textile chemistry or textile management at Auburn.

CAP Corporate Scholarships CAP provides college scholarships for undergraduates and graduates. Scholarship amounts vary. Some of the top-ranking cadets receive special scholarships sponsored by the Air Force Association, USAA.

Dowling College School of Aviation CAP members have several aeronautical majors to choose from at Dowling College. Dowling offers a one-year and a two-year scholarship to CAP members annually.

The Order of Daedalians Aspiring military aviators have an opportunity to earn their pilot's license with this scholarship, sponsored by the Daedalians. Graduates of CAP flight academies are encouraged to apply.

The Spaatz Association The Spaatz Association provides an annual scholarship to help a cadet who has flown solo to earn a pilot's license and/or attend a leadership-related CAP activity.

Texas A&M University Corps of Cadets With the largest uniformed student body in the nation, Texas A&M is a school where CAP cadets can continue their study of leadership while attending a major university. Scholarship recipients automatically qualify for in-state tuition.

USAF Academy Preparatory School Each year the USAF Academy allocates at least one slot at the Academy Preparatory School for a CAP cadet. Cadets admitted to the Preparatory School are likely to enter the Academy the following year. Cadets who dream of entering the Academy should apply for this program.
